Case No. 14-cv-04640-BLF

ORDER ADOPTING REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION; AND REMANDING CASE FOR LACK OF SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION

[Re: ECF 9]

12
13 I. BACKGROUND

14 On October 14, 2014, Defendant Adil Hiramanek (“Defendant”) filed a Notice of 15 Removal, removing criminal case #C1235568 from the Santa Clara County Superior Court to the 16 Northern District of California under 28 U.S.C. § 1443(1). Not. of Removal, ECF 1. The Notice
17 of Removal, which is twenty-five pages long and filled with numerous references to statutes and 18 legal authorities, does not include a copy of the criminal case. Upon removal, the case initially 19 was assigned to Magistrate Judge Paul S. Grewal, who issued an order directing that the case be 20 reassigned to a district judge along with a Report and Recommendation (“R&R”) that the case be 21 remanded for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. R&R at 1, ECF 9. Defendant timely objected to 22 the R&R. Obj., ECF 12. Having considered the R&R, Defendant’s objection thereto, and the 23 applicable legal authorities, the Court hereby ADOPTS the R&R and REMANDS the case to the 24 Santa Clara County Superior Court for lack of subject matter jurisdiction.

25 II. LEGAL STANDARD

26 A district court judge may refer a matter to a magistrate judge to issue findings of fact and 27 recommendations for the disposition of the matter. 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P.
28 72(b)(1); Civ. L.R. 72-3. Any objections to the report and recommendation of a magistrate judge

1 must be filed within fourteen days of receipt thereof and must “specifically identify the portions of
2 the findings, recommendation or report to which objection is made and the reason and authority
3 therefor.” Civ. L.R. 72-3(a). “The district judge must determine de novo any part of the 4 magistrate judge’s disposition that has been properly objected to.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b)(3). “The 5 district judge may accept, reject, or modify the recommended disposition; receive further 6 evidence; or return the matter to the magistrate judge with instructions.” Id.

7 III. DISCUSSION

8 As noted, the nature of the criminal action against Defendant is unclear. Mr. Hiramanek
9 claims that in connection with that action, he has been “subjected to denial of access to State Court
10 facilities, harassment, torture, intimidation, unlawful search and seizure, unlawful interrogation, 11 unlawful detention, unlawful confiscation of property, obstruction and perversion of course of 12 justice, shadowing, eviction from the facility, forcibly removed, et al.” Not. of Removal at 1, ECF
13 1.<sup>1</sup> He asserts that these actions were taken against him as a result of his “racial minority [status]
14 and ethnic background,” which he identifies as “Asian Indian.” Id. On these bases, Defendant
15 removed a pending state court criminal action against him to the Northern District of California
16 under “all applicable removal statutes, including but not limited to 28 U.S.C. § 1443(1), § 1651
17 [All Writs Act], § 2201, [and] 42 U.S.C. § 2000a-3.” Id.

18 Of those statutes, only 28 U.S.C. § 1443(1) potentially authorized removal. That statute 19 provides for removal of a criminal prosecution “[a]gainst any person who is denied or cannot 20 enforce in the courts of such State a right under any law providing for the equal civil rights of 21 citizens of the United States, or of all persons within the jurisdiction thereof.” 28 U.S.C. § 22 1443(1). “A petition for removal under § 1443(1) must satisfy the two-part test articulated by the 23 Supreme Court in Georgia v. Rachel, 384 U.S. 780, 788-92, 794-804, 86 S. Ct. 1783, 16 L. Ed. 2d
24 925 (1966) and City of Greenwood, Miss. v. Peacock, 384 U.S. 808, 824-28, 86 S. Ct. 1800, 16 L.
25 Ed. 2d 944 (1966).” Patel v. Del Taco, Inc., 446 F.3d 996, 998 (9th Cir. 2006). “First, the

28 California Courts, available at <http://www.courts.ca.gov/12272.htm>. It may be that his perceived “denial of access to State Court facilities” related to his status as a vexatious litigant.

1 petitioners must assert, as a defense to the prosecution, rights that are given to them by explicit
2 statutory enactment protecting equal racial civil rights.” Id. (quotation marks and citation
3 omitted). “Second, petitioners must assert that the state courts will not enforce that right, and that
4 allegation must be supported by reference to a state statute or a constitutional provision that 5 purports to command the state courts to ignore the federal rights.” Id. (quotation marks and 6 citation omitted).

7 Defendant’s Notice of Removal does not meet either prong. Where comprehensible, the 8 Notice of Removal makes bare allegations of raced-based discrimination, unsupported by facts
9 suggesting that, for example, the criminal prosecution and exclusion from public facilities was 10 motivated by Defendant’s race or ethnicity. Moreover, Defendant “point[s] to no formal 11 expression of state law that prohibits [him] from enforcing [his] civil rights in state court nor [does 12 he] point to anything that suggests that the state court would not enforce [his] civil rights in the 13 state court proceedings.” Patel, 446 F.3d at 999.

14 IV. ORDER

15 Accordingly, the Court adopts the R&R<sup>2</sup> and REMANDS this case to the Santa Clara
16 County Superior Court for lack of subject matter jurisdiction.

23
25 <sup>2</sup> As pointed out by Defendant, the R&R relied upon outdated authority for the proposition that 26 removal “brings the state prosecution to an immediate halt.” R&R at 2 (quoting Davis v. Sup. Ct.
27 of State of Cal., 464 F.2d 1272, 1273 (9th Cir. 1972)). Effective January 2012, “[t]he filing of a 28 notice of removal of a criminal prosecution shall not prevent the State court in which such prosecution is pending from proceeding further, except that a judgment of conviction shall not be entered unless the prosecution is first remanded.” 28 U.S.C. § 1455(b)(3). The Court nonetheless adopts the R&R because remand is appropriate under the analysis set forth above.
